Carol Gilligan

Kyra

Carol Gilligan is a writer best known for her 1982 book, In a Different Voice, described by Harvard University Press as “the little book that started a revolution.” In 1996, she was named one of Time magazine’s twenty-five most influential Americans. She was born and raised in New York City. She earned her B.A. with highest honors in English Literature from Swarthmore College and her Ph.D. in psychology from Harvard, where she was a member of the faculty for thirty-four years. Her award winning research led in 1997 to the creation of Harvard’s first professorship in Gender Studies, which she held until 2001 when she returned to New York to become a University Professor at NYU. She lives with her husband in New York City and in the Berkshires. KYRA is her first novel.

Ms. Gilligan will be introduced by: Professor Jerome Bruner

Research Professor of Psychology & Senior Research Fellow, School of Law, at New York University. Professor Bruner is an internationally renowned psychologist, influential educational philosopher, and architect of the cognitive revolution of the twentieth century. He is the author of, among many other books, Acts of Meaning and Actual Minds, Possible Worlds.

Rounds begin at 5:00 followed by refreshments
